About the conference

The 15th World Congress on Endocrinology and Diabetes scheduled for July 29-30, 2025, in Paris, France, aims to bring together leading experts, researchers, healthcare professionals, and industry pioneers to explore the latest developments in endocrinology and diabetes. This global event will provide an exceptional platform for exchanging knowledge, discussing emerging trends, and addressing the challenges in managing endocrine disorders and diabetes worldwide.

The conference will feature a comprehensive scientific program, including keynote presentations, interactive panel discussions, workshops, and oral and poster sessions. Renowned speakers will share their expertise on topics ranging from innovative treatment approaches and precision medicine to advancements in technology-driven diabetes care. Attendees will have the opportunity to gain valuable insights, network with peers, and explore collaborative opportunities that drive research and clinical excellence.

Beyond scientific discussions, the congress emphasizes creating a dynamic and inclusive environment that fosters dialogue among academia, industry, and healthcare stakeholders. This event will also showcase cutting-edge technologies, breakthrough therapies, and evidence-based practices that are shaping the future of endocrinology and diabetes management.
